LOOK, LOOK ... Weekend Excursions

The Boston Competition is a drama competition in which selected students from the competition speech team participate. They are coached by Mr. Gilbert. Acting is only one part of this trip. Students get a chance to explore colleges; in this case, Harvard University. They also visited other areas of Boston, and took in the "flavor" of the city. Visiting fancy restaurants, looking at the views from the hotel or having a big "pillow fight" were just a few of the activities that made this a special trip. The experience of the competition and exploring a fascinating city is something students enjoy and truly appreciate.

Dawn Benedetti, Ernest Gonzalez, and Isaiah Grauer met with Mr. Carden one Saturday for a day in New York. They visited the World Trade Center and explored the observation deck. Then they went for a ride on the Staten Island Ferry and enjoyed the wonderful views of the city. The memories of the New York trip will last a lifetime and provide inspiration for their future art work.

It's In The Stars

What's your sign? This is not just another "pick up" line. Arts High's Seniors used the Zodiac as a theme for a Fundraiser. Those who collected the most money for their sign became the top Mr. or Miss of that sign. It was lots of fun and it was all in the "stars."

Hispanic Heritage Show is Sensational etting ready to do her thing.

The annual Aspira presentation honors Hispanic Heritage month. This year it was held on November 30, 1994 at Arts High. Rehearsals began in September and quite a few hours were spent after school each day. The performance included poetry readings, dances, and songs. The show was a great success and the Aspira Club is happy everyone enjoyed the show. The advisor of the Aspira Club is Mrs. Abend.

African-American Heritage Program excites audience.

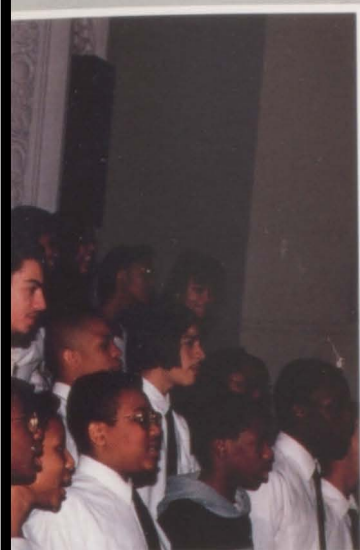

The Sophomore Mixed Chorus, Jazz Choir and Mr. Melchor with Mr. Piazza presented a stirring African-American Heritage Program. The Sophomore Mixed Chorus also performed at an earlier time for Superintendent Eugene Campbell in his office! In addition they performed at the Rafael Hernandez School, and the Newark Museum.

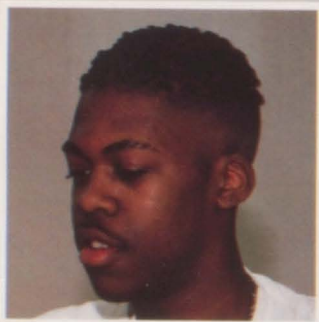

The Jazz Choir was formed by Mr. Melchor to study and sing jazz arrangements. They sing in four part harmony and solo voices. The Jazz Choir is open to all Arts High students, not just vocal majors. They meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays throughout the year.

Seniors Make The Switch

One of our favorite senior activities at Arts is "Switch Day". This is a day when the most feminine females change into rough, tough roughnecks and the most masculine guys change into "Sexy Fe'mme Fatales".

Switch Day has been a tradition at Arts High for many years. It is a chance to play "Dress Up" creatively, using the opposite sex switch as a theme. Students can use their "acting" talents as well. A deep-voiced guy just might be heard discussing his [her] lipstick in a high-pitched female voice, while a very lovely young lady may appear as a real strong, tough, "Street Fighter" type with a moustache, beard and a definite "attitude".

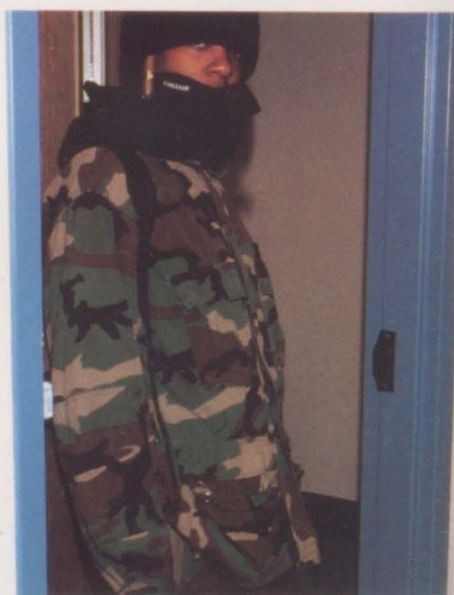

Switch Day is fun and fascinating for all who participate!

jaguars in

It's sleepy time fashions on pajama day. Seniors go all out. Some use a touch of humor, while others have a touch of glamour. Some like the "Baby-Doll" or "Baby-Time" style. Others give "Victoria's Secret" a run for its money.

Sometimes the Pajama Day theme actually brings a more relaxed atmosphere to those who participate. Young ladies smile as they hug their Teddy Bears. Soft-slippered feet glide down the hall and the total look is laid-back and calm. The rest of the students and staff enjoy these "pajama people" showing off their varied sleepwear styles. From big fuzzy and funny slippers to elegant and chic designer robes and loungewear, Arts High Seniors define their own special sleepwear look.

Reminiscing time gone by

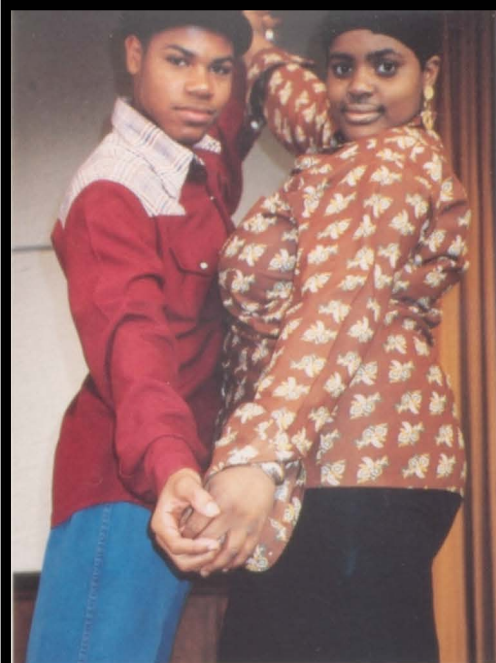

Groovin' Back In Time

Flashback Day was the “grooviest” as the Arts High seniors dressed in their favorite clothes from the fifties through the seventies. It was really “happening” and it made everyone want to put on their platforms and go to the Disco.

Some of the staff got involved by lending some of their old clothes to the seniors. Time seemed to move back into the past. We all saw the seniors posing or “vogue-ing” in the hallways while their friends took snapshots. This is another Arts High tradition that is lots of fun and proved to be “Far-Out” for all the participants.

Senior Music and Drama

Seniors in the music and drama departments were extremely active this year at our temporary location in the Skills Center portion of the Coed building. African-American History Month was especially busy with many programs being held in the auditorium. These acclaimed productions were in addition to plays directed by the seniors. This will be an unforgettable year in the lives of the members of the class of 1995.

FACULTY

Eleta J. Caldwell, Principal

Congratulations to the class of 1995. We've made it through our transitional year. We're away from "home" and we've made the necessary adjustments to continue the educational process while marking this as an academic banner year. The significance of our accomplishments emphasizes an important aspect of life. The point is simply this: change can be used to your advantage, and a flexible and adaptable attitude can be tackled to make great strides.

You will find that there are many events and circumstances that are beyond your control. We are often placed in situations that aren't of our choosing and may bring with them a reluctance to strive for an acknowledged objective. It is within your power to analyze each situation and approach it in a way that can benefit you.

You are intelligent, energetic and creative. You are approaching adulthood and you will probably be challenged many times in the future. I have always believed in you. You have the power and ability to make things work for you.

Love and good wishes,
Ms. Caldwell

FINE ART

"We can't take any credit for our talents. It's how we use them that counts."

This quote embodies the spirit of the art department. The art students come to Arts High School with a high level of talent and ability. In the various art courses, they develop these skills to an even greater degree. The many artistic experiences afford them the opportunity to create their own distinct style.

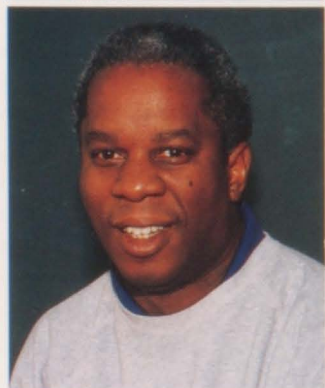

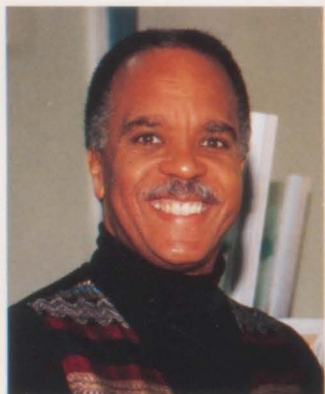

In this year of transition at the Skills Center, art students have also experienced flexibility, and upkeep of a newly renovated studio environment: a responsibility they have proudly assumed and met.

I am fully assured that the underclassmen going into the new extended and renovated Arts High School facility will continue this role of responsible caretakers. As art students they are being afforded a first hand look at how the visual arts come into play in making the new Arts High a dream realized: an accomplishment we welcome our seniors to return and experience also. As artistic individuals, - whether or not they pursue an art related career - I know they will achieve their full creative potential in their own way to realize their own dreams. I wish them good luck and a good life.

HISTORY FOREIGN LANGUAGES AND BUSINESS

Those who forget history are doomed to repeat it, as are those who fail it. History is the combination of events that, while revealing the past, also serves as the key to the future.

International awareness was the focus during this school year in the Social Studies, Foreign Languages and Business Departments.

VARSITY SETTERS, SPIKERS, BUMPERS PLAY WITH ENTHUSIASM

The volleyball program at Arts High School has been improving. The varsity squad now has experienced players. This, according to Coach Robert Pietropinto, has made them a faster, stronger and wiser squad. This year's team is led by seniors: Kim Terry, Audrey Bohler, Jennifer Bright and Tamica Jones. Underclassman Danielle Scott hopes to provide the catalyst for next year's squad.

LET'S MAKE TRACKS

The Cross Country Team had a respectable season. The fall weather seems to agree with our runners and Coach Markowitz was satisfied with his squad. Singled out for outstanding performances were Arnaldo Reyes and Richard Daves.

Team Struggles

lthough our Varsity Jaguars had a disappointing year as a team, finishing with a losing record, the season had some exciting individual efforts. Coach Larry Markowitz felt that Senior Tracy Ware played very well, averaging 12 points per game. Junior Leroy Peters also had several good games and showed promise for the future.

It's Up - It's Good For Two

ustle was the name of the game for the Girls' Varsity Basketball Team headed by Coach Robert Pietropinto. Even though the team's record was not all that impressive, the entire team must be commended for its hard work and dedication. Junior guard Fathiyyah Salaam, who had a fine outside jumper was the team's high scorer.

ACTIVITIES

Alumni Return for Celebration

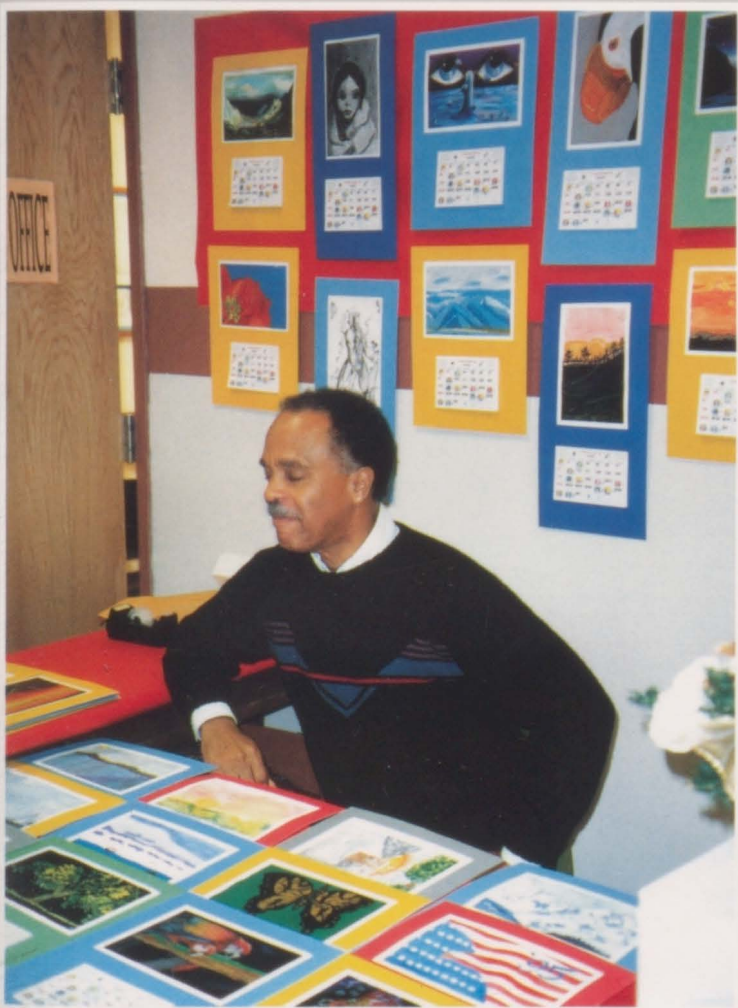

Alumni Day is a time for graduates and staff to come back "home" to Arts High. They visit and share their experiences with our present students. It is good to see our friends who have gone out into the world. Some are in college, others are working, but whatever they are achieving in life, it is a special day for those who will always be part of Arts High School. The current students performed for the alumni and for Mr. Lazurus Rhim, a retired security guard, who was a special guest this year.

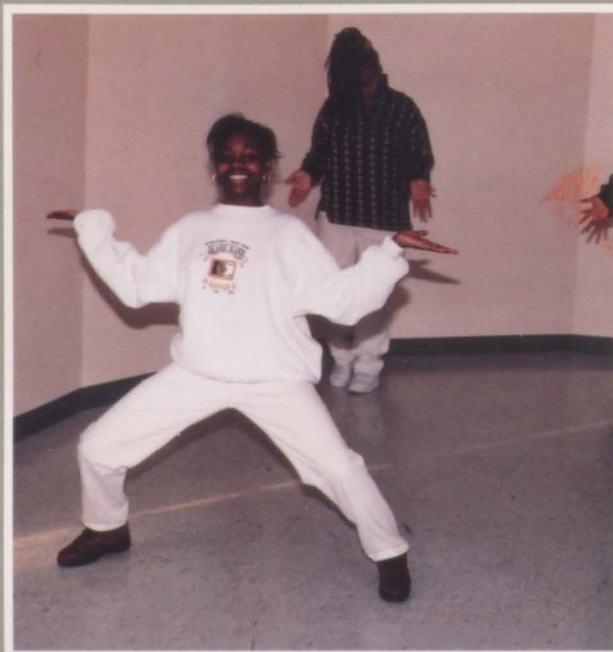

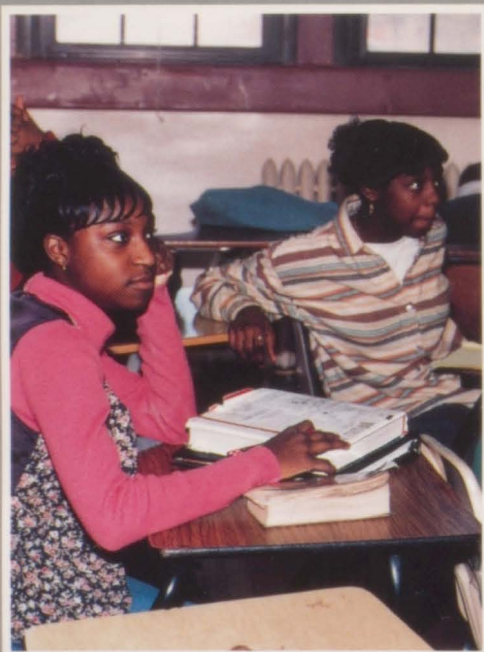

Winter Fair

Winter Fair at Arts High is a time for our talented students to "show off"!

There is music performed by our band, orchestra and various choruses. The art students display and sell wonderful crafts that they have made. It is a fine, and festive occasion for all.
